17 In light of the Court's discovery that plaintiff is not a California corporation as 18 represented by defendant in its removal papers, the Court issued an order to show cause as to 19 how this Court has subject matter jurisdiction. In response, the parties concede that this 20 nearly three-years old action was improperly removed.

21 Accordingly, on or before noon on Thursday, April 16, 2009, plaintiff Truck
22 Insurance Exchange shall file a declaration with the Court that identifies each and every case 23 currently pending in federal district or appellate court in which it is a party and subject matter
24 jurisdiction is purportedly based on diversity jurisdiction. At the hearing on April 17, 2009,
25 Truck should be prepared to address whether the Court should require it to file a declaration
